ECI Conference 2027 Madrid: Call for Abstracts Now Open

Dear members,

We are pleased to share the latest information about the ECI Conference Madrid 2027, taking place from March 31 to April 2, 2027, at the Official School of Physicians of Madrid (ICOMEM) in Madrid, Spain.

Under the theme "Growing together: innovation, equity and community," this edition of the conference will bring together professionals, researchers, families, and policymakers committed to advancing Early Childhood Intervention across Europe.

Call for Abstracts

The Call for Abstracts is now open and will accept submissions from July 6, 2026, until November 1, 2026. Abstracts may be submitted within one of five thematic tracks, reflecting the central areas of the scientific program.

Scientific themes

The program is structured around five themes shaping the conference agenda, designed to highlight the most relevant topics in early childhood intervention and foster dialogue between evidence, practice, and policy. The conference also features international keynote speakers addressing topics such as family engagement, community participation, and family-centered early intervention.

Review process

All submitted abstracts will undergo a double-blind peer review carried out by an European scientific committee. This process ensures fairness, academic quality, and rigorous evaluation of all proposals.

We encourage you to participate

We warmly encourage all members to consider submitting their work and contributing to the scientific program of ECI Conference Madrid 2027. This is a valuable opportunity to share knowledge, present innovative practices, and help shape the future of early childhood intervention.

You can access all the information on the official conference website, where you will find full details on the program, keynotes, venue, and abstract submission process.
